Opening Activity

Focus

Children will count the number of syllables in their names. Children will identify some letters in their names. Children will be exposed to the letters of the alphabet and their sounds.

“See It! Hear It! Say It! Find It!”

Materials

Emergent Writing

LESSON 9

Take-Home Book: My Party Book

Focus

Children will develop knowledge about representing ideas on paper by drawing and writing. Children will develop skills with writing the letter that represents the first sound in words and with writing their names.

Materials

Crayons, Markers or Pencils
Name Pencils, optional (uncut, created in Lesson 1 for each child)
Take-Home Books: My Party Book for each child (see instructions on page 3)

What to Do

Think Aloud

- Begin the writing process by verbalizing ideas about what to write. Discuss characters, events or feelings about previous stories read aloud or past experiences.

*We are going make our own party books.
Today, we read a story about a pig and a party.
When I listened to that story, it made me think about a party that I had when I was little.*

- Attach a Take-Home Book: My Party Book to the Magnetic Board with a Magnetic Clip.
- Read the front cover of the Take-Home Book: My Party Book.
- Touch each word as you read.

Let's read the front cover of my Take-Home Book.

The title of my book is My Party Book, and I see a picture of a party hat.

Model Drawing Pictures and Writing Beginning Sounds

- Demonstrate how to put thoughts and ideas onto paper. Model how to draw a picture. Discuss and describe the details as you add them to the picture. Talk about the beginning sounds that you hear in words. Model how to write the letter that makes the beginning sound.
- Model out loud your thinking process.
Hmmm...I think I will draw a picture of a party.
- Draw a picture of a party. Describe the details as you add to the picture in My Party Book (balloons, cake, friends, and so on).
- Ask for suggestions on what to draw from the children.
*What could I draw in my picture that would make it look like a party?
What else could I draw at my party?*
- Review a word from the picture and talk about its beginning sound. Model how to write the first sound that they hear.
- Write the letter P.
*Party begins with the /p/ /p/ /p/.
/p/ /p/ party... /p/ /p/ P
I'm going to write the letter /p/ /p/ P next to my party, because /p/ /p/ party begins with the letter P.*

Emergent Writing

Brainstorm

- Engage children in discussions to help them brainstorm ideas of topics they can write about.
- Acknowledge the child's choice.

NOTE: The picture does not have to be about a party or begin with the letter P.

*Susie, what are you going to draw?
Susie is going to draw a pony party. /p/ /p/
party and /p/ /p/ pony both begin with the letter
/p/ /p/ P.*

Independent Writing

As children work independently, encourage conversation about their drawings. Talk about the beginning sounds they hear in words and pictures.

- Give each child his/her own Take-Home Book: My Party Book and a choice of Crayons, Markers, or Pencils.
- Ask each child what he/she is going to write or draw on his/her paper.
- Encourage the children to add details to their pictures.
- Acknowledge and praise all attempts the child makes at drawing and writing.
*Susie can write the letter P on her paper for /p/ /p/ party!
Susie's friends are going to come to the party.
Susie, you can draw a picture of your friends at the party!*

- Encourage children to write their names on the front covers of the Take-Home Book: My Party Book.
- Have Name Pencils available for children to reference as they write their names.

Author's Chair

Let each child share his/her writing with others in the group. Encourage conversation among children. Have children ask questions or make comments about each other's writing. Encourage children to feel comfortable sharing their work with the others in the group.

NOTE: You will need to model how this looks to the child sharing his/her writing, as well as to the children who will be listening. The first few times, they may not know how to ask questions or make comments about someone else's work. Model and demonstrate a positive way to communicate. Children will often follow your cues, asking the same questions you asked, or making the same comments you made.

Example:

*Can you read your story to your friends?
Tell us about your picture.
You wrote the words on your paper!
Would anyone like to ask Janeisha a question or say something about her story/picture?*

LESSON 9

Example: Letter Aa

Teacher says: A... /a/ /a/ apple ... /a/ /a/ A

Children echo: /a/ /a/ apple ... /a/ /a/ A

Example: Letter Bb

Teacher says: B... /b/ /b/ bear ... /b/ /b/ B

Children echo: /b/ /b/ bear ... /b/ /b/ B

Example: Letter Cc

Teacher says: C... /k/ /k/ cat... /k/ /k/ C

Children echo: /k/ /k/ cat... /k/ /k/ C

- Repeat with each letter of the alphabet.

Suggested Modification

- Provide an Alphabet Mat and a Pointer for each child to use. Invite children to touch the letters on the Alphabet Mat as they listen and say the Alphabet Chant.

Reflection

Acknowledge children for their hard work.

- Remind children that today:

We learned about the letter Pp and the sound it makes: /p/ /p/ /p/

We listened for words that begin with the sound /p/ /p/ /p/, like /p/ /p/ pig, /p/ /p/ pickle, and /p/ /p/ pillow.

We wrote our very own Take-Home Books.

We put the beginning and ending of a word together to make a new word.

- Ask children to blend the onset and rime of a word.

Example: Listen. /p/...ig

What's the word? Pig!

- Provide specific positive feedback to the children.

For example, you might say:

"Jose", you put the parts of the word together and made the word pig!"

LESSON 9

Quick Check for Lesson 9 Learning Objectives

- Children have learned to identify the letter Pp and can make its sound /p/.
- Children listen for the /p/ sound at the beginning of a word and identify words that begin with the /p/ sound.

Lesson 9 Strategies

Adaptive and Accelerated Strategies for All Learners

LESSON 9

Adaptive Strategy

Provide an opportunity for children to express themselves by retelling a known story.

What to Do

- Set up a story-telling center. Have books available that have been read to the children during group or circle time.
- Children can work in pairs or small groups to retell a story that they have experienced.
- The “reader” can point to the pictures and tell the others about the story based on the pictures.
- Encourage turn-taking for shy or non-expressive children.

Accelerated Strategy

Engage in a variation of the Name Activity for children who can recite their names without visual cues.

What to Do

- A child stands with his/her Name Pencil displayed behind him/her.
- Another child stands by the Name Pencil.
- The first child calls out the first letter in his/her name.
- The standing child points to the letter that has been called out.
- All children in the group call out the letter, strengthening listening skills and letter knowledge.
- Children can come forward in pairs to repeat the exercise using other names in the group.
